

Installer- Gozo

About Us

Econetique, a subsidiary of JoinwellFXB, provides high-quality building-services and energy-efficiency solutions for residential and commercial clients, with a strong focus on quality workmanship and customer satisfaction.

We are currently seeking a reliable, hands-on Installer to join our field team in Gozo, contributing to the delivery of our installation and maintenance services.

Requirements

- Practical experience in installation, maintenance, construction or building services (essential).
- Confidence using tools and equipment appropriate to installation work.
- The ability to follow technical instructions and manufacturer guidance.
- A strong awareness of safe working practices.
- Reliable attendance, good timekeeping and a team-player attitude.
- Good communication skills in Maltese and/or English.
- Basic ability to complete job sheets and records, including on mobile apps.
- Experience with air conditioning, PV, heat pumps or other building-services installations, and relevant trade training, will be considered assets.

Responsibilities

- Carrying out installations in line with the job scope, technical instructions and manufacturer requirements.
- Checking materials, tools and equipment before starting each job.
- Completing work to the required standard and checking installations for defects before handover.
- Assisting with testing, commissioning and handover as directed.
- Supporting maintenance, breakdown, warranty and callback work.
- Reporting technical concerns, site issues and defects promptly.
- Working safely, protecting customer property and leaving sites clean and presentable.
- Completing job sheets, checklists and service records accurately and on time.

Why JoinwellFXB?

- Be part of a well-established and reputable Maltese company.
- Enjoy long-term career prospects with ongoing training and development opportunities.
- Join a supportive team within an inclusive workplace that values employee wellbeing.
- Receive a competitive remuneration package based on experience and qualifications.

Candidates must reside in or be willing to relocate to Gozo.
